

2020 Annual Report

Special to the MTC Newsletter

September 2020

In the future, no one will look back at the year 2020 and speak wistfully of ‘the good old days.’ It was a challenging year that forced us to be adaptable. But, still, we managed to make progress and provide an important service to the community as we all struggled through the pandemic together. As entertainment and fitness facilities closed down, trails everywhere took on a whole new level of importance. Membership and usage increased significantly.

The Year that Almost Wasn’t

2021 started as a typical year. Arrangements began for our normal events, and new events were contemplated. Plans started for a busy summer of maintenance and improvements. Rumors of an epidemic began in January or February, but – thank goodness – it wasn’t coming here. Well, that didn’t last.

By mid-March, the state had ordered schools, businesses, restaurants, and almost everything else to close. Soon we began wearing masks and monitoring six-foot buffer zones around ourselves. Even construction sites were shut down, and that included our trail-building projects.

We began monitoring guidance from CDC and other public health entities. When had a trail ever needed information from CDC? What was happening? Signs reminding trail users to practice social distancing rules were placed all along the trail. The Board voted to close portable toilets, as well as any drinking fountains that we controlled, in March. Users were not pleased.

And then the unthinkable began to happen. One by one, our wonderful events began to fall, like soldiers in battle. Events important, not just for the funds they raise, but for the community they foster.

A Bit of Recovery

Well, at least we were able to reopen the toilets, with increased cleaning, by late May.

The Tour Committee decided that our biggest event, the Tour the Montour, could go on as a “virtual” event. While it wasn’t wise to assemble everyone for a big ride and lunch, users could ride on their own and share photos on Facebook. This allowed people to sign up and receive a super cool t-shirt that translated the social distancing rules into bicycle terms (like ‘six helmets’ or ‘three wheels’). Even without lunch or rest stops, nearly 300 people signed up and a number of our sponsors continued to support us.

And beyond that, 2020 was a busy year for the trail. With theaters, health clubs, sports venues, and most other forms of entertainment closed, thousands of people went in search of both fun and fitness. The trail was busy, and parking lots were packed. This led to an unexpected upside, a real increase in memberships and donations.

Technology to the Rescue

As we were unable to meet in person, our in-person meetings were converted to teleconferences. Many people who never expected to ever get close to a webcam found themselves using one. With some practice, this we became fairly adept at modern communications. However, we never found a way to order post-meeting drinks after the meeting through Zoom. I understand that this is a shortcoming of even the most premium packages offered by Zoom.

Even our Annual Meeting was conducted on Zoom, drawing around 50 participants. We even included a drawing for four-packs of Montour Trail Double IPA made by a local brewery.

Interpersonal isolation also left us more dependent on social media and our website. The Montour Trail Enthusiasts Facebook group passed 8,000 members. Our website has been very busy, due to frequent updates.

Trail Building Resumes

Once the construction shutdown was lifted in mid-May, we were able to get back to our nuts and bolts. Our most notable accomplishment was the opening of 0.4 miles of new trail along Piney Fork, including a new bridge. This area will be one of the most beautiful and peaceful sections of the trail.

Work at Summit Station also continued. The improved trail surface was expanded, and an impressive new bridge was installed over the entrance way, donated by the developer.

The Coraopolis extension moved toward completion, with initial placement of materials, despite pandemic delays.

Work on the new Western Corridor Garage was essentially completed, with only some minor drywall installation remaining.

Trail Maintenance Continues

Bill Capp and his team undertook a trail-wide maintenance program to resurface sections of trail and clear ditches. Erosion controls measures were needed along Piney Fork Creek. Scaffolding was installed in Greer Tunnel for safety while repairs are made.

PennDOT's Southern Beltway construction caused inconvenience to trail users, but allowed us to reap the benefit of a promised new parking area near McDonald.

We Gained Some Other Stuff

It finally became time to get some help for our aging dump trucks. Our two 1970's-vintage trucks were both substantially older than the trail itself. Also, both trucks had manual transmissions, limiting the number of volunteers who could even drive them. This year, we invested in a 2019 Ford F-650 dump with an automatic transmission, to the delight of many volunteers.

To complement the new Western Corridor Garage, we also bought a new tractor. Having tractors stationed at both Kurnick and Western garages allows easier access for our volunteers all along the trail.

On the opposite end of the technology spectrum, development of a trail-wide geographic information system (GIS) neared completion. This cloud-based system will allow volunteers to check out property lines and other property information from home.

Friends Groups and Committees

The Friends Groups and Committees continued to be the backbone of our volunteer organization logging more than 23,000 hours this year. The Westland Friends Group officially became the latest addition to the team.

Visions for the Future

Peter Kohnke continued to work on expanding the Bethel Branch into Millennium Park. This project should keep the Montour Trail growing into the future.

Volunteers, Members and Donors Continue to Anchor Everything

As always, credit for all of our accomplishments goes to our capable and multi-faceted volunteer workforce. The Friends Groups, committees, and Board all contribute necessary efforts to the functioning of this organization. With ongoing efforts, the Montour Trail will be here forever, serving generation after
